Rule 45, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Subdivisions (c), (d), and (e), as amended on December 1, 2006:

(c) PROTECTION OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS.

(1) A party or an attorney responsible for the issuance and service of a subpoena shall take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to that subpoena. The court on behalf of which the subpoena was issued shall enforce this duty and impose upon the party or attorney in breach of this duty an appropriate sanction, which may include, but is not limited to, lost earnings and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(2) (A) A person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling of designated electronically stored information, books, papers, documents or tangible things, or inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless commanded to appear for deposition, hearing or trial.

(B) Subject to paragraph (d)(2) of this rule, a person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling may, within 14 days after service of the subpoena or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than 14 days after service, serve upon the party or attorney designated in the subpoena written objection to producing any or all of the designated materials or inspection of the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. If objection is made, the party serving the subpoena shall not be entitled to inspect, copy, test, or sample the materials or inspect the premises except pursuant to an order of the court by which the subpoena was issued. If objection has been made, the party serving the subpoena may, upon notice to the person commanded to produce, move at any time for an order to compel the production, inspection, copying, testing, or sampling. Such an order to compel shall protect any person who is not a party or an officer of a party from significant expense resulting from the inspection, copying, testing, or sampling commanded.

(3) (A) On timely motion, the court by which a subpoena was issued shall quash or modify the subpoena if it

(i) fails to allow reasonable time for compliance;

(ii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to travel to a place more than 100 miles from the place where that person resides, is employed or regularly transacts business in person, except that, subject to the provisions of clause (c)(3)(B)(iii) of this rule, such a person may in order to attend trial be commanded to travel from any such place within the state in which the trial is held;

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter and no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) If a subpoena

(i) requires disclosure of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information, or

(ii) requires disclosure of an unretained expert's opinion or information not describing specific events or occurrences in dispute and resulting from the expert's study made not at the request of any party, or

(iii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial, the court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the court may order appearance or production only upon specified conditions.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO SUBPOENA.

(1) (A) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.

(B) If a subpoena does not specify the form or forms for producing electronically stored information, a person responding to a subpoena must produce the information in a form or forms in which the person ordinarily maintains it or in a form or forms that are reasonably usable.

(C) A person responding to a subpoena need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) A person responding to a subpoena need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or to quash, the person from whom discovery is sought must show that the information sought is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) (A) When information subject to a subpoena is withheld on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced that is sufficient to enable the demanding party to contest the claim.

(B) If information is produced in response to a subpoena that is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has and may not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved. A receiving party may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. If the receiving party disclosed the information before being notified, it must take reasonable steps to retrieve it. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(e) CONTEMPT. Failure of any person without adequate excuse to obey a subpoena served upon that person may be deemed a contempt of the court from which the subpoena issued. An adequate cause for failure to obey exists when a subpoena purports to require a nonparty to attend or produce at a place not within the limits provided by clause (ii) of subparagraph (c)(3)(A).

App. 11/076,737 (U.S. Pub. 2005/0152404), and any foreign counterparts thereof.

6. "Paradyne Patents" refers to any patent that was issued to or applied for by or on behalf of any Paradyne entity including without limitation Paradyne Corporation, AT&T Paradyne, or Paradyne Networks, Inc., or issued to or applied for by or on behalf of any inventor named on any of the patents-in-suit.

7. "Inventors" refers to any of the named inventors on any of the patents-in-suit or related patents or patent applications, including Joseph B. King, Wayne T. Moore, Robert Earl Scott, Gideon Hecht, Kurt Ervin Holmquist, Donald C. Snoll, Joseph Chapman, William L. Betts, or James J. DesRosiers.

8. "Assignee" or "the assignees" refers to any alleged assignee of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications, including, but not limited to Paradyne, Rembrandt, AT&T Paradyne, or Lucent Technologies, Inc.

9. "Prosecuting Attorney" shall refer to any counsel involved in the application or prosecution of a patent-in-suit, related patent or patent application, or Paradyne Patent.

10. "Document" shall have the meaning accorded by Rule 34(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure including, but not limited to all of the matters defined in Rule 1001 of the Federal Rules of Evidence, any written, printed, typed, recorded, magnetic, punched, copied, graphic, or other tangible thing in which information may be embodied, translated, conveyed, or stored. If a draft document has been prepared in several copies that are not identical, or if the original identical copies are no longer identical due to subsequent notation, each non-identical document is a separate document.

11. "Concerning" means pertaining to, relating to, referring to, regarding, representing, embodying, illustrating, describing, evidencing, discussing, mentioning or constituting.

12. "Communication" is used in a comprehensive sense, and means any instance in which any person has had contact with any other person by oral or written utterance, question, comment, inquiry, notation, or statement of any nature whatsoever, including but not limited to writings, documents, conversations, dialogues, discussions, interviews, consultations, agreements, and understandings.

13. "DOCSIS" shall mean any Data-Over-Cable Service Interface Specification(s), including but not limited to DOCSIS 1.0, DOCSIS 1.1, and DOCSIS 2.0.

14. "Related Action" means the Multi-District Litigation In re: Rembrandt Technologies LP Patent Litigation, C.A. No. 07-1848-GMS (D. Del.), and the lawsuits consolidated therein, including the following: 06-cv-00635-GMS, Rembrandt Technologies LP v. Cablevision Systems Corporation et al.; 06-cv-00721-GMS, Coxcom Inc. v. Rembrandt Technologies LP; 06-cv-00727-GMS, Rembrandt Technologies LP v. CBS Corporation; 06-cv-00729-GMS, Rembrandt Technologies LP v. Comcast Corporation et al; and 07-cv-00404-GMS, Rembrandt Technologies LP v. Charter Communications Inc. et al.

15. As used herein, “and” and “or” shall be construed either conjunctively or disjunctively as necessary to bring within the scope of the discovery request all responses that might otherwise be construed to be outside of its scope.

16. Where appropriate, the singular form of a word should be interpreted in the plural and vice versa, to acquire the broadest possible meaning.

17. If any document relating to the subject matter of this subpoena has been destroyed, describe the content of said document, the last location of said document, the date of its destruction and the name of the person or entity that ordered or authorized its destruction.

DOCUMENT REQUESTS

PATENT & PATENT PROSECUTION

1. All documents discussing, describing, referring, or relating to the patents-in-suit, any related patents or patent applications, or to the same or similar subject matter as the subject matter disclosed in the patents-in-suit.

2. All documents discussing, describing, referring, or relating to the preparation, filing, or prosecution of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications, including, but not limited to invention disclosure information, technical descriptions, prior art, publications, non-identical drafts of patent applications, abandoned applications (e.g., Application No. 08/149,348) prosecution file histories of the patents-in-suit, prosecution file histories of related patents or patent applications, communications with inventors or experts, and any communications with any agent, attorney, firm, foreign patent office or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”).

3. Documents sufficient to identify all persons who assisted in any aspect of the preparation, filing, or prosecution of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications.

4. All documents discussing, describing, referring, or relating to any Paradyne Patents, including without limitation any abandoned application.

5. All documents concerning the preparation, filing, or prosecution of any Paradyne Patent, including, but not limited to invention disclosure information, technical descriptions, prior art, publications, non-identical drafts of patent applications, abandoned applications, prosecution file histories, communications with inventors or experts, and any communications with any agent, attorney, firm, foreign patent office or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”).

6. All documents referring to or concerning any patent applications filed by or patents issued to any of the Inventors.

7. All documents evidencing, describing, concerning, or referring to the preparation, filing, or prosecution of any patents or patent applications naming one or more of the Inventors, including, but not limited to invention disclosure information, technical descriptions, prior art, publications, non-identical drafts of patent applications, abandoned applications, prosecution file histories, and any communications with any agent, attorney, firm, foreign patent office or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”).

8. All documents and materials concerning inventorship of any invention allegedly disclosed or claimed by the patents-in-suit or by any related patents or patent applications, including, but not limited to documents sufficient to identify all persons who assisted in any aspect of the research, development, manufacture, testing, marketing, sale, or licensing of the alleged invention(s), and documents sufficient to identify all materials suppliers for any embodiment of the alleged invention(s).

9. All actual or potential prior art known, cited, referenced, considered, or discussed during or in prosecution of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications, whether or not first cited or found by the assignee(s), the named inventors, counsel, agent(s), any patent office or any other person or entity.

10. All documents provided to any Prosecuting Attorney or Inventor by anyone prior to or during the preparation and prosecution of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications in connection with such preparation and prosecution, including, without limitation notes, laboratory notebooks, sketches, memoranda, articles, technical reports, technical journals, and technical specifications.

11. All documents and materials concerning the conception of the alleged invention(s) of the patents-in-suit or of related patents or patent applications, the best mode of practicing such alleged invention(s), the reduction to practice of such alleged invention(s), and any improvements to such alleged invention(s), including, but not limited to inventor records, notebooks, physical embodiments of all or part of such alleged invention(s), and all devices, apparatus or software purchased or built by the inventors for the purpose of researching, developing, or reducing to practice such alleged invention(s).

12. All documents concerning any actual or constructive reduction to practice of the alleged invention(s) of the patents-in-suit or of any related patents or patent applications, including but not limited to documents relating to research, development, manufacture, testing, marketing, or sale of the alleged invention(s).

13. All documents concerning any costs associated with the conception, reduction-to-practice, or research and development of the alleged invention(s), including, but not limited to receipts for supplies.

14. All documents concerning, describing, or evidencing when the inventors, the assignees, their counsel, or anyone subject to the duty of candor before the USPTO learned of any potential or actual prior art to the patents-in-suit or to any related patents or patent applications.

15. All documents and materials comprising, concerning or referring to any search for prior art to the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications.

16. All documents comprising, concerning or referring to potential or actual prior art to the patents-in-suit or to any related patents or patent applications, even if you dispute that the material constitutes or discloses prior art, including, but not limited to art cited during prosecution of the patents-in-suit, art cited during the prosecution of any related patents or patent applications, and art disclosed by any third parties (including in any litigation involving the patents-in-suit or in licensing discussions).

17. All documents that allegedly support any contention that the alleged invention(s) of the patents-in-suit are not obvious under 35 U.S.C. § 103, including, but not limited to documents that allegedly relate to or evidence secondary considerations of non-obviousness such as commercial success, long-felt need, copying by others, prior failure by others, licensing by others, or unexpected results.

18. All documents referring to or concerning any litigation or other proceeding involving the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications, including, but not limited to all pleadings, motions, exhibits, orders, depositions or other testimony, hearing transcripts, written discovery responses or initial disclosures, document productions, correspondence, settlement agreements, consent decrees, or any other materials from prior litigations.

19. All documents and other materials provided to any Prosecuting Attorney by the inventors, any assignee, or their counsel relating to this litigation or to any of the patents-in-suit or any related patent or patent application or to any Paradyne Patent.

20. All documents and other materials provided by any Prosecuting Attorney to the inventors, any assignee, or their counsel relating to this litigation or to any of the patents-in-suit or any related patent or patent application or to any Paradyne Patent.

21. All documents concerning the level of ordinary skill in the art of the alleged invention(s) of the patents-in-suit.

22. All documents concerning the interpretation or construction of any of the claim terms in the patents-in-suit.

COMMERCIALIZATION & PRIOR ART

23. All documents concerning any disclosure by anyone to anyone of the alleged invention(s) of the patents-in-suit or of related patents or patent applications, including, but not limited to any disclosure of the alleged invention(s) by the assignee(s) or the named inventors to each other or to any third party.

24. All documents concerning any sale, offer for sale, importation, public use, or public disclosure of any activity, product, process, or method that may embody any of the claims or disclosures of the patents-in-suit or of related patents or patent applications.

25. All documents concerning the first sale, offer for sale, importation, public use, or public disclosure of any activity, product, process, or method that may embody any of the claims or disclosures of the patents-in-suit or of related patents or patent applications.

26. All documents referring or relating to any products marketed or sold by any assignee of the patents-in-suit or of related patents or patent applications that relates to any activity, product, process, or method that may embody any of the claims or disclosures of the patents-in-suit or of related patents or patent applications.

27. Rule 45, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Subdivisions (c), (d), and (e), as amended on December 1, 2006:

(c) PROTECTION OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS.

(1) A party or an attorney responsible for the issuance and service of a subpoena shall take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to that subpoena. The court on behalf of which the subpoena was issued shall enforce this duty and impose upon the party or attorney in breach of this duty an appropriate sanction, which may include, but is not limited to, lost earnings and a reasonable attorney's fee.

(2) (A) A person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling of designated electronically stored information, books, papers, documents or tangible things, or inspection of premises need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless commanded to appear for deposition, hearing or trial.

(B) Subject to paragraph (d)(2) of this rule, a person commanded to produce and permit inspection, copying, testing, or sampling may, within 14 days after service of the subpoena or before the time specified for compliance if such time is less than 14 days after service, serve upon the party or attorney designated in the subpoena written objection to producing any or all of the designated materials or inspection of the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. If objection is made, the party serving the subpoena shall not be entitled to inspect, copy, test, or sample the materials or inspect the premises except pursuant to an order of the court by which the subpoena was issued. If objection has been made, the party serving the subpoena may, upon notice to the person commanded to produce, move at any time for an order to compel the production, inspection, copying, testing, or sampling. Such an order to compel shall protect any person who is not a party or an officer of a party from significant expense resulting from the inspection, copying, testing, or sampling commanded.

(3) (A) On timely motion, the court by which a subpoena was issued shall quash or modify the subpoena if it

(i) fails to allow reasonable time for compliance;

(ii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to travel to a place more than 100 miles from the place where that person resides, is employed or regularly transacts business in person, except that, subject to the provisions of clause (c)(3)(B)(iii) of this rule, such a person may in order to attend trial be commanded to travel from any such place within the state in which the trial is held;

(iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter and no exception or waiver applies; or

(iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) If a subpoena

(i) requires disclosure of a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information, or

(ii) requires disclosure of an unretained expert's opinion or information not describing specific events or occurrences in dispute and resulting from the expert's study made not at the request of any party, or

(iii) requires a person who is not a party or an officer of a party to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial, the court may, to protect a person subject to or affected by the subpoena, quash or modify the subpoena or, if the party in whose behalf the subpoena is issued shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship and assures that the person to whom the subpoena is addressed will be reasonably compensated, the court may order appearance or production only upon specified conditions.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO SUBPOENA.

(1) (A) A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents shall produce them as they are kept in the usual course of business or shall organize and label them to correspond with the categories in the demand.

(B) If a subpoena does not specify the form or forms for producing electronically stored information, a person responding to a subpoena must produce the information in a form or forms in which the person ordinarily maintains it or in a form or forms that are reasonably usable.

(C) A person responding to a subpoena need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) A person responding to a subpoena need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or to quash, the person from whom discovery is sought must show that the information sought is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) (A) When information subject to a subpoena is withheld on a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation materials, the claim shall be made expressly and shall be supported by a description of the nature of the documents, communications, or things not produced that is sufficient to enable the demanding party to contest the claim.

(B) If information is produced in response to a subpoena that is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has and may not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved. A receiving party may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. If the receiving party disclosed the information before being notified, it must take reasonable steps to retrieve it. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(e) CONTEMPT. Failure of any person without adequate excuse to obey a subpoena served upon that person may be deemed a contempt of the court from which the subpoena issued. An adequate cause for failure to obey exists when a subpoena purports to require a nonparty to attend or produce at a place not within the limits provided by clause (ii) of subparagraph (c)(3)(A).

App. 11/076,737 (U.S. Pub. 2005/0152404), and any foreign counterparts thereof.

6. "Paradyne Patents" refers to any patent that was issued to or applied for by or on behalf of any Paradyne entity including without limitation Paradyne Corporation, AT&T Paradyne, or Paradyne Networks, Inc., or issued to or applied for by or on behalf of any inventor named on any of the patents-in-suit.

7. "Inventors" refers to any of the named inventors on any of the patents-in-suit or related patents or patent applications, including Joseph B. King, Wayne T. Moore, Robert Earl Scott, Gideon Hecht, Kurt Ervin Holmquist, Donald C. Snoll, Joseph Chapman, William L. Betts, or James J. DesRosiers.

8. "Assignee" or "the assignees" refers to any alleged assignee of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications, including, but not limited to Paradyne, Rembrandt, AT&T Paradyne, or Lucent Technologies, Inc.

9. "Prosecuting Attorney" shall refer to any counsel involved in the application or prosecution of a patent-in-suit, related patent or patent application, or Paradyne Patent.

10. "Document" shall have the meaning accorded by Rule 34(a) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure including, but not limited to all of the matters defined in Rule 1001 of the Federal Rules of Evidence, any written, printed, typed, recorded, magnetic, punched, copied, graphic, or other tangible thing in which information may be embodied, translated, conveyed, or stored. If a draft document has been prepared in several copies that are not identical, or if the original identical copies are no longer identical due to subsequent notation, each non-identical document is a separate document.

11. "Concerning" means pertaining to, relating to, referring to, regarding, representing, embodying, illustrating, describing, evidencing, discussing, mentioning or constituting.

12. "Communication" is used in a comprehensive sense, and means any instance in which any person has had contact with any other person by oral or written utterance, question, comment, inquiry, notation, or statement of any nature whatsoever, including but not limited to writings, documents, conversations, dialogues, discussions, interviews, consultations, agreements, and understandings.

13. "DOCSIS" shall mean any Data-Over-Cable Service Interface Specification(s), including but not limited to DOCSIS 1.0, DOCSIS 1.1, and DOCSIS 2.0.

14. "Related Action" means the Multi-District Litigation In re: Rembrandt Technologies LP Patent Litigation, C.A. No. 07-1848-GMS (D. Del.), and the lawsuits consolidated therein, including the following: 06-cv-00635-GMS, Rembrandt Technologies LP v. Cablevision Systems Corporation et al.; 06-cv-00721-GMS, Coxcom Inc. v. Comcast Corporation et al; and 07-cv-00404-GMS, Rembrandt Technologies LP v. Charter Communications Inc. et al.

15. As used herein, “and” and “or” shall be construed either conjunctively or disjunctively as necessary to bring within the scope of the discovery request all responses that might otherwise be construed to be outside of its scope.

16. Where appropriate, the singular form of a word should be interpreted in the plural and vice versa, to acquire the broadest possible meaning.

17. If any document relating to the subject matter of this subpoena has been destroyed, describe the content of said document, the last location of said document, the date of its destruction and the name of the person or entity that ordered or authorized its destruction.

PATENT & PATENT PROSECUTION

1. All documents discussing, describing, referring, or relating to the patents-in-suit, any related patents or patent applications, or to the same or similar subject matter as the subject matter disclosed in the patents-in-suit.

2. All documents discussing, describing, referring, or relating to the preparation, filing, or prosecution of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications, including, but not limited to invention disclosure information, technical descriptions, prior art, publications, non-identical drafts of patent applications, abandoned applications (e.g., Application No. 08/149,348) prosecution file histories of the patents-in-suit, prosecution file histories of related patents or patent applications, communications with inventors or experts, and any communications with any agent, attorney, firm, foreign patent office or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”).

3. Documents sufficient to identify all persons who assisted in any aspect of the preparation, filing, or prosecution of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications.

4. All documents discussing, describing, referring, or relating to any Paradyne Patents, including without limitation any abandoned application.

5. All documents concerning the preparation, filing, or prosecution of any Paradyne Patent, including, but not limited to invention disclosure information, technical descriptions, prior art, publications, non-identical drafts of patent applications, abandoned applications, prosecution file histories, communications with inventors or experts, and any communications with any agent, attorney, firm, foreign patent office or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”).

6. All documents referring to or concerning any patent applications filed by or patents issued to any of the Inventors.

7. All documents evidencing, describing, concerning, or referring to the preparation, filing, or prosecution of any patents or patent applications naming one or more of the Inventors, including, but not limited to invention disclosure information, technical descriptions, prior art, publications, non-identical drafts of patent applications, abandoned applications, prosecution file histories, and any communications with any agent, attorney, firm, foreign patent office or the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (“USPTO”).

8. All documents and materials concerning inventorship of any invention allegedly disclosed or claimed by the patents-in-suit or by any related patents or patent applications, including, but not limited to documents sufficient to identify all persons who assisted in any aspect of the research, development, manufacture, testing, marketing, sale, or licensing of the alleged invention(s), and documents sufficient to identify all materials suppliers for any embodiment of the alleged invention(s).

9. All actual or potential prior art known, cited, referenced, considered, or discussed during or in prosecution of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications, whether or not first cited or found by the assignee(s), the named inventors, counsel, agent(s), any patent office or any other person or entity.

10. All documents provided to any Prosecuting Attorney or Inventor by anyone prior to or during the preparation and prosecution of the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications in connection with such preparation and prosecution, including, without limitation notes, laboratory notebooks, sketches, memoranda, articles, technical reports, technical journals, and technical specifications.

11. All documents and materials concerning the conception of the alleged invention(s) of the patents-in-suit or of related patents or patent applications, the best mode of practicing such alleged invention(s), the reduction to practice of such alleged invention(s), and any improvements to such alleged invention(s), including, but not limited to inventor records, notebooks, physical embodiments of all or part of such alleged invention(s), and all devices, apparatus or software purchased or built by the inventors for the purpose of researching, developing, or reducing to practice such alleged invention(s).

12. All documents concerning any actual or constructive reduction to practice of the alleged invention(s) of the patents-in-suit or of any related patents or patent applications, including but not limited to documents relating to research, development, manufacture, testing, marketing, or sale of the alleged invention(s).

13. All documents concerning any costs associated with the conception, reduction-to-practice, or research and development of the alleged invention(s), including, but not limited to receipts for supplies.

14. All documents concerning, describing, or evidencing when the inventors, the assignees, their counsel, or anyone subject to the duty of candor before the USPTO learned of any potential or actual prior art to the patents-in-suit or to any related patents or patent applications.

15. All documents and materials comprising, concerning or referring to any search for prior art to the patents-in-suit or any related patents or patent applications.

16. All documents comprising, concerning or referring to potential or actual prior art to the patents-in-suit or to any related patents or patent applications, even if you dispute that the material constitutes or discloses prior art, including, but not limited to art cited during prosecution of the patents-in-suit, art cited during the prosecution of any related patents or patent applications, and art disclosed by any third parties (including in any litigation involving the patents-in-suit or in licensing discussions).

17. All documents that allegedly support any contention that the alleged invention(s) of the patents-in-suit are not obvious under 35 U.S.C. § 103, including, but not limited to documents that allegedly relate to or evidence secondary considerations of non-obviousness such as commercial success, long-felt need, copying by others, prior failure by others, licensing by others, or unexpected results.
